We've got to be louder than their lobbyists. > Speak out for your right to repair Hello Washington State Friends: This year, Washington could be the first state in the nation to pass Right to Repair.. It's not going to be easy Manufacturers are standing in the way When your stuff breaks, they want to be the only people allowed to fix it.. So far, they've managed to stop Fair Repair legislation before your representatives get a chance to vote on it.
